"Elameno Quintet gave a great performance. I am now a big fan! Great music."
- Luis Conte

"Still thinking about that great performance you did at the Mint in LA."
- Billy Childs

Stunning improvisation on the flute, mesmerizing guitar, soulful cello lines, upright bass as you've never heard it before and percussion to knock your socks off. The modern acoustic originals of Elameno Quintet draw inspiration from Jazz and Arabic music to Flamenco, Brazilian and Irish. In the last year alone, performances, festivals and studies have taken the members of the quintet from Puerto Rico to Argentina, India, Lebanon, and from coast to coast of the United States.

And yet, the sound of these five musicians will convince you that they spent their lives performing together. The tones blend, the beats groove and something amazing happens with the unusual combination of these five instruments. Unique and accessible at the same time, the flavor of Elameno Quintet appeals to audiences of all ages and across genres.
